PALS News

May 2023

This is the last monthly newsletter for PALS. Our team is grateful to have worked with you over the past decade-plus, and we hope that our support and expertise have made it easier for you to serve students who may be at risk for reading difficulty over the years. We wish you all the best for a successful end to your school year.

- The PALS Online System and PALS Professional Development site will shut down permanently at the end of this spring window (June 30, 2023). Learn more here.
  - No further access to websites, PALS data, or PALS reports will be available after this date. Please print any reports you wish to keep as part of student records, or save these as a PDF to a secure location.
  - Scores for spring 2023 may be entered through the end of the business day on June 30.
  - Administrators who have a PALS Online account should download and save all of your PALS data before June 30.
- The PALS Spring score entry window in the PALS Online System is now open and will remain open until June 30. The recommended window for spring screening opened on April 24 and extends until early June.
- All materials needed for spring 2023 assessment were shipped when you received your initial shipment; no additional materials will be shipped this year. If you discover at the last minute that you have a new teacher or have lost part of your materials, remember that all PALS materials, including both PALS Teacher Sets and PALS Consumable Sets, can be printed from the Materials section of any PALS Online account until June 30.
- The PALS team will continue to fully support you and will continue to respond to emails sent to support@palshelp.com through June 30. After this date, any questions or concerns may be directed to support@renaissance.com.
